Your Home: Your Biggest Investment

Chances are you've protected your investment with a solid homeowners insurance plan. But do you have a protection plan against the threat of nasty home invaders like termites, carpenter ants, and rodents?

Wood-destroying insects like carpenter ants and termites, for example, cost us billions of dollars every year. More than 90% of the homes in the US are wood framed. But even homes built of masonry and steel serve up delicious wood treats and places to live for these pests. Left unchecked, they systematically destroy our homes and valuable wood objects in them.

Most homeowners policies do not cover termite and carpenter ant damage.

Customized Service Programs

Did you know Dave's offers tailored service programs designed to meet your specific pest management needs?

Now it's even easier to protect your home environment, no matter what your family's unique needs are.

Specific Service Programs For Specific Problems

Termites, carpenter ants, and rodents require on-going and targeted baiting and elimination programs.

Dave's will conduct a comprehensive inspection of your home and surrounding property to identify key problem indicators like colony sources, potential entry points for rodents, evidence of termites, and more.

Once identified, Dave's will recommend the best solution for your specific pest problem.

Looking To Sell Or Refinance Your Home?

Dave's is Wood-Destroying Insect Certified. Before a home or building is sold or refinanced, a wood-destroying insect inspection is recommended. A FHA or VA Loan requires a wood destroying insect (WDI) report prior to financing.
