

Quality Service

A quality home inspection should be more than something you need to satisfy a loan requirement. The inspection should itself add value to your knowledge of the home.

Let Key Inspection Services provide you with that value.

Proprietor Michael Key offers you his years of varied experience. A U.S. Navy veteran who worked with nuclear machinery and a licensed boiler/pressure vessel inspector, Michael offers years of hands-on experience in nearly all facets of building construction and maintenance. Historic restorations are one specialty. And you may have already admired his work as a set builder for various movies and television series shot in Baltimore.

Let Michael put his experience to work for you.
